

Application for a bridging visa

Form
1005

Australian Government
Department of Home Affairs

To replace a ceased bridging visa, to change bridging visa conditions or to provide lawful status during judicial review

Important – Please read this information and the information about bridging visas on the Department of Home Affairs (the Department) website <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-listing#content-index-5> before you complete your application. Once you have completed your application we strongly advise that you keep a copy for your records.

How to apply

Please complete your application in English.

Answer all questions in full. If you need more space to answer any question, write the details on a separate sheet indicating the specific question number it refers to, sign it and attach it to the application. You may also be asked to provide documentary evidence of some of your details.

If your circumstances change in any way after you lodge your application you must inform the Department of the new circumstances.

Please return the completed form to the Postal address for the relevant processing centre or the office that is currently responsible for your matter.

If you are unsure which office to send the form to, please send the form to the Postal address listed on our website for your nearest office.

For further information on visa applications and contacting the Department, see information form 1025i Making and processing visa applications. This form is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au

You may also be eligible to apply electronically over the internet. To check your eligibility, refer to the Department's website <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-listing#content-index-5>

Residential address

You must provide the address of where you intend to live while your application is being dealt with. Failure to give a residential address will result in your application being invalid. A post office box address will not be accepted as your residential address.

Circumstances under which you may be eligible for a class of bridging visa using this form to:

(1) Replace a ceased bridging visa

You may be eligible for replacement of a bridging visa which has ceased if:

- the bridging visa ceased because you departed Australia, and your application for a substantive visa has not been finally determined; or
- your application for review of a decision to cancel a substantive visa has been successful.

(2) Change bridging visa conditions

You can apply for a bridging visa with change of conditions if you hold a Bridging visa A, B, C or E.

Generally, if you are seeking another bridging visa without work restrictions, you need to demonstrate a compelling need to work, either because of financial hardship, or because you have been sponsored or nominated for employment in an 'approved appointment' associated with an outstanding substantive visa application for a Temporary Work (Skilled) (class UC) (subclass 457) visa.

However, you will not be eligible for permission to work if you hold a Bridging visa E because you are seeking judicial review or Ministerial intervention, except in limited circumstances.

From 1 July 2009, if you apply for a Protection visa and hold a Bridging visa C or E with work restrictions, you may be eligible for another bridging visa with permission to work. You can apply for another bridging visa with permission to work by completing form 1005 Application for a bridging visa.

To be eligible:

- Bridging visa C holders need to demonstrate a 'compelling need to work', that is, show that you are in financial hardship.
- Bridging visa E holders need to demonstrate a 'compelling need to work', as well as satisfy the Department you have an 'acceptable reason for your delay', in making a Protection visa application, that is, reasons why you:
 - (a) did not apply for a Protection visa after your arrival in Australia while you held a substantive visa; and
 - (b) why you have now applied for a Protection visa after you became unlawful.

If you hold a Bridging visa A, B, C or E and are seeking judicial review of a refusal decision on your Protection visa application, you will only be permitted to work if you had permission to work on the last bridging visa you held and you applied for judicial review within the statutory time limits.

If you hold a Bridging visa E and have made an initial ministerial intervention request from 1 July 2009, you will only be permitted to work if you had permission to work on the last bridging visa held, and at the time of making the ministerial intervention request, you had remained lawful since your last substantive visa application was finally determined.

If you are the holder of a Bridging visa E and are seeking to change the condition(s) of the visa, you must demonstrate that you will abide by the conditions sought; and if applicable, you will provide reasons:

- for changing arrangements to depart; or
- to make a visa application; or
- for changing the period in which a valid travel document must be obtained and presented to the Department to make a visa application.

(3) Await the outcome of judicial review

You should provide evidence that an application for judicial review has been made by attaching a copy of the relevant application for review or notice of appeal which shows the court registration number and endorsement by the Registrar of the Federal Court.

Note: If you hold a Bridging visa A or B and need to travel overseas because you have substantial reasons to leave Australia while you are awaiting the outcome of your visa application or judicial review application, you will need to use form 1006 Application for a Bridging visa B.

Including family members in your application

Information about which family members are considered to be a 'member of the family unit' is available by referring to form 1496i Including family members in your application. Form 1496i is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/allforms/

All secondary persons must be included at Question 13.

Important information about privacy

The Privacy Act 1988 contains 13 Australian Privacy Principles which regulate the way that the Department collects and handles personal information. Information about how the Department collects, uses and discloses personal information for its key functions can be found in form 1442i Privacy notice. More information about the Department's general information handling practices (including form 1442i) can be found in the Department's Privacy policy at

<https://www.homeaffairs.gov.au/access-and-accountability/our-commitments/privacy>

Immigration assistance

A person gives immigration assistance to you if he or she uses, or claims to use, his or her knowledge or experience in migration procedure to assist you with your visa application, request for ministerial intervention, cancellation review application, sponsorship or nomination.

In Australia a person may only lawfully give immigration assistance if he or she is a registered migration agent or is exempt from being registered. Only registered migration agents may receive a fee or reward for providing immigration assistance.

If an unregistered person in Australia, who is not exempt from registration, gives you immigration assistance they are committing a criminal offence and may be prosecuted.

Migration agents in Australia

Migration agents in Australia must be registered with the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (Office of the MARA) unless they are exempt from registration.

Migration agents outside Australia

Migration agents who operate outside Australia do not have to be registered. The Department may give some overseas agents an ID number. This number does not mean that they are registered.

Note: Some Australian registered migration agents operate overseas.

Migration agent information

A migration agent is someone who can:

- advise you on the visa that may best suit you;
- tell you the documents you need to submit with your application;
- help you fill in the application and submit it; and
- communicate with the Department on your behalf.

If you appoint a migration agent, the Department will assume that your migration agent will be your authorised recipient, unless you indicate otherwise.

Your migration agent will be the person with whom the Department will discuss your application and from whom it will seek further information when required.

You are not required to use a migration agent. However, if you use a migration agent, the Department encourages you to use a registered migration agent. Registered agents are bound by the Migration Agents Code of Conduct, which requires them to act professionally in their clients' lawful best interests.

Information on migration agents, including a list of registered migration agents, is available on the Office of the MARA website www.mara.gov.au

You can also access information about migration agents on the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au

Exempt persons

The following people do not have to be a registered migration agent in order to provide immigration assistance, but they must not charge a fee for their service:

- a close family member (spouse, de facto partner, child, parent, brother or sister);
- a member of parliament or their staff;
- an official whose duties include providing immigration assistance (eg. a Legal Aid provider);
- a member of a diplomatic mission, consular post or international organisation.

Appointing a migration agent/exempt person

To appoint a migration agent/exempt person you should complete Part H – Options for receiving written communications.

Your migration agent/exempt person should complete form 956 Advice by a registered migration agent/exempt person of providing immigration assistance.

Form 956 is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/allforms/

Options for receiving written communications

If you do not appoint a migration agent/exempt person you may still authorise another person, in writing, to receive written communications on your behalf. This person is called the authorised recipient.

Authorised recipient information

All written communication about your application will be sent to your authorised recipient, unless you indicate that you wish to have health and/or character information sent directly to you.

The Department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient as you may only appoint one authorised recipient at any time for a particular application.

You will be taken to have received any documents sent to that person as if they had been sent to you.

To appoint an authorised recipient you should complete:

- Part H – Options for receiving written communications; and
- Form 956A Appointment or withdrawal of an authorised recipient.

Note: Migration agents/exempt persons do not need to complete form 956A.

Form 956A is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/allforms/

Consent to communicate electronically

The Department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as fax or email will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process your application the Department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example, health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with.

If you agree to the Department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the Department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose. They will not be added to any mailing list.

The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the Department over the internet or by other electronic means.

If you authorise another person to receive documents on your behalf and they wish to be contacted electronically, their signature is required on form 956 or 956A to indicate their consent to this form of communication.

Note: Electronic communication is the fastest means of communication available and the Department prefers to communicate electronically because this results in faster processing.

Part A – Application details

1 Why are you applying for a bridging visa?

To replace a bridging visa

You are seeking to replace a bridging visa associated with an outstanding application for a substantive visa because the bridging visa ceased when you left Australia OR your application for review of a decision to cancel your substantive visa has been successful.

- Write the name of the class of bridging visa for which you are applying, for example Bridging visa A; Bridging visa B; Bridging visa C, in the box below.

Note: The class you apply for must be the same as the class of bridging visa which ceased.

▶▶ Now go to Part B

To change the visa conditions on your bridging visa

- Write the name of the class of bridging visa for which you are applying, for example Bridging visa A; Bridging visa C; Bridging visa E, in the box below.

Note: You must apply for the same class of bridging visa as the one you currently hold unless you hold a Bridging visa B, in which case you should apply for a Bridging visa A.

▶▶ Now go to Part B

Awaiting the outcome of judicial review

You are seeking judicial review of a decision to refuse a visa, and you lodged your application for review or notice of appeal within 28 days of being notified of the decision and you hold or last held a Bridging visa A, B or C.

- If you held a Bridging visa A or a Bridging visa B when you applied for judicial review, you should apply for a Bridging visa A. However, if you hold a Bridging visa B with permission to travel to Australia until a date in the future, you should apply for a Bridging visa B.

If you held a Bridging visa C when you applied for judicial review, you should apply for a Bridging visa C, provided you have not been granted a Bridging visa E since applying for review.

Write the name of the class of bridging visa for which you are applying, for example Bridging visa A; Bridging visa C, in the box below.

▶▶ Now go to Part B

OR

You are seeking judicial review in relation to a substantive visa.

- You should apply for a Bridging visa E and you should write this in the box below.
