

Survey of Business Skills visa holders

Form
1010

Australian Government
Department of Home Affairs

About this form

Important – Please read this information carefully before you complete your survey. Once you have completed your survey we strongly advise that you keep a copy for your records.

This form should only be completed by people who hold a Business Skills (Provisional) or Business Talent (Migrant) or Business Skills (Residence) visa or Business Skills (Migrant) visa. It should only be completed when you are instructed to do so by the Department of Home Affairs (the Department).

The Australian Government encourages people from overseas with business expertise and a successful business background to come to Australia in order to contribute their expertise to the Australian economy. The Business Skills visa under which you were granted your visa, provides such an avenue.

The Australian Government expects that after a period of time in Australia, people granted a Business Skills (Migrant), Business Talent (Migrant) and Business Skills (Residence) visa, will provide valuable input to the Australian economy by becoming actively involved as owners or part owners at a senior level in business which does one or more of the following:

- develop links with international markets;
- create or maintain employment;
- export Australia's goods and/or services;
- substitute for goods and services currently imported to Australia;
- introduce new or improved technology;
- add to commercial activity and competitiveness in sectors of the Australian economy.

As evidence of your business activities, you are required to provide the Department with supporting documents. Examples of evidence that you may provide in support of this monitoring program is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au

Partner

'Partner' means your spouse or de facto partner (including same-sex partners).

What is immigration assistance?

A person gives immigration assistance if he or she uses, or purports to use, his or her knowledge or experience in migration procedure to assist a person with matters related under the Migration Act 1958.

The most common times assistance is provided is during visa application processes, visa cancellation processes or sponsorship processes (including monitoring or sanctions).

Note: Immigration assistance does not include simply filling in an application form, translating or interpreting or passing on information about an application without comment or explanation.

Registered migration agents

A registered migration agent is a person who is registered with the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (OMARA) to provide immigration assistance.

If operating in Australia, migration agents must be registered with the OMARA.

Information on registered migration agents, including how to find one, is available on the OMARA website www.mara.gov.au

Legal practitioners

A legal practitioner is a lawyer who holds an Australian legal practising certificate (whether restricted or unrestricted) granted under a law of an Australian state or territory.

Legal practitioners can provide immigration assistance in connection with legal practice.

Information on legal practitioners, including how to find one, is available on the Law Council of Australia website.

Information on legal practitioners can also be sought from the relevant state or territory legal professional bodies.

Exempt persons

The following people do not have to be a registered migration agent or legal practitioner in order to provide immigration assistance:

- a close family member (spouse, child, adopted child, parent, brother or sister of a visa applicant);
- a sponsor or nominator for a visa applicant;
- a member of parliament or their staff;
- a member of a diplomatic mission, consular post or international organisation.

An exempt person must not charge a fee for their assistance. In Australia, if they do charge a fee they are committing an offence and penalties of up to 10 years jail can apply.

Appointing a registered migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person

To appoint a registered migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person you need to complete Part F – Options for receiving written communications.

Your registered migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person needs to complete form 956 Appointment of a registered migration agent, legal practitioner or exempt person.

Form 956 is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/allforms/

Options for receiving written communications

If you do not appoint a migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person you may still authorise another person, in writing, to receive written communications on your behalf. This person is called the authorised recipient.

Authorised recipient information

All written communication about your application will be sent to your authorised recipient, unless you indicate that you wish to have health and/or character information sent directly to you.

The Department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient as you may only appoint one authorised recipient at any time for a particular application.

You will be taken to have received any documents sent to that person as if they had been sent to you.

To appoint an authorised recipient you need to complete:

- Part F – Options for receiving written communications; and
- form 956A Appointment or withdrawal of an authorised recipient.

Note: Migration agents/legal practitioners/exempt persons do not need to complete form 956A.

Form 956A is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/allforms/

Consent to communicate electronically

The Department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as fax or email will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process your application the Department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example, health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with.

If you agree to the Department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the Department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose. They will not be added to any mailing list.

The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the Department over the internet or by other electronic means.

If you authorise another person to receive documents on your behalf and they wish to be contacted electronically, their signature is required on form 956 or 956A to indicate their consent to this form of communication.

Note: Electronic communication is the fastest means of communication available and the Department prefers to communicate electronically because this results in faster processing.
