Application for Australian citizenship by descent

Form

118

Important

Have you considered applying online? Applying online will ensure your application and payment is received by the Department of Home Affairs (the Department) in a timely manner and helps us to finalise your application more quickly. Check if you can apply online at www.homeaffairs.gov.au/citizenship

If you apply using this paper form

Please read the information pages carefully. Pre-pay through ImmiAccount before posting your application to the Department (see page 15).

We strongly advise that you keep a copy of your application for your records.

There are 4 steps in the citizenship application process for citizenship by descent.

- Step 1 Eligibility – determine if you are eligible
- Step 2 Original documents – gather your original documents
- Step 3 Copy and certify your documents
- Step 4 Complete this application form, pay online and lodge your application

Integrity of application

The Department is committed to maintaining the integrity of the visa and citizenship programs. If you or a third party acting on your behalf provide, or have provided in a previous application, false or misleading information or documents (either knowingly or otherwise), this application may be refused. In addition, you may be prosecuted under the Migration Act 1958 and/or the Australian Citizenship Act 2007. If information or documents are found to be fraudulent or misleading after you become an Australian citizen, you may be prosecuted and may be subject to revocation of your Australian citizenship.

Step 1 – Eligibility

If you were born outside Australia on or after 26 January 1949, you may be eligible for Australian citizenship by descent if at least one person who was your parent at the time of your birth was also an Australian citizen at the time of your birth. If your Australian citizen parent was a citizen by descent or full Hague adoption, then that parent must have spent at least 2 years in Australia before you make your application.

If you were born outside Australia or New Guinea before 26 January 1949 you may be eligible for Australian citizenship by descent if at least one of your parents became an Australian citizen on 26 January 1949, and that parent was born in Australia or New Guinea, or was naturalised in Australia before your birth.

All applicants 18 years or over must be of good character.

Australian citizenship commences on the date the application is approved. You do not need to attend a citizenship ceremony.

If you were born through an international surrogacy arrangement

Please read Fact sheet International Surrogacy Arrangements available from the Department's website

www.homeaffairs.gov.au

In all cases involving surrogacy, you must provide:

- written and signed consent from the surrogate/gestational mother to the application
- a certified copy of identity documentation for the surrogate/gestational mother showing her photo, signature and current address, and
- a certified copy of the surrogacy contract signed by the surrogate/gestational mother and commissioning parent(s).

If you were adopted

Please read the information available on the Department's website <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/citizenship/become-a-citizen/child-adopted-outside>

If you were adopted you should only use this form if a person who was your parent at the time of your birth was also an Australian citizen at that time.

If you did not have an Australian citizen parent at the time of your birth and you were:

- adopted under full Hague Convention arrangements you should use form 1272 Application for Australian citizenship for children adopted under full Hague Convention or bilateral arrangements
- adopted by an Australian citizen under a law of an Australian state or territory and you were in Australia as a permanent resident at that time you may have automatically acquired Australian citizenship. You may apply for evidence of Australian citizenship using form 119 Application for evidence of Australian citizenship.

If you were adopted under other arrangements and are a permanent resident you may be eligible to apply for Australian citizenship (form 1290 Application for Australian citizenship – Other situations if under 18 years of age or form 1300t Application for Australian citizenship – General eligibility if 18 years of age or over).

Children

Applications for children under 16 years of age must be made by a responsible parent.

The Australian Citizenship Act 2007 defines responsible parent in relation to a child as:

- a parent, unless that parent does not have parental responsibility because of orders made by the Family Court of Australia, or
- any person having responsibility over the child because of an order made by the Family Court, or
- any person who has guardianship or custody of the child under an Australian law or a foreign law, whether because of adoption, operation of law, an order of a court or otherwise.

Step 2 – Original documents

You will need to provide the Department with a range of documents to prove that you are who you say you are and to establish you have not had any serious criminal convictions. These documents are called identity documents and good character documents.

You will also need to provide additional documents that show one of your parents was an Australian citizen at the time of your birth. These are called supporting documents.

If you have to get documents from overseas this can take time. You will not be able to complete the application process without these documents.

Translations and certified copies

If your documents are not in English, you must provide official translations. In Australia, you must use translators accredited by the National Accreditation Authority of Translators and Interpreters. For more information, see www.naati.com.au

Unless specified that original documents are required, certified copies of original documents must be attached to your application. These copies must be certified by a person with the correct authority. See Identity declarations – list of professions on pages 5–6 for people who can certify documents. Further information on certifying documents is available on the Department’s website

<https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/help-support/applying-online-or-on-paper/on-paper/certified-copy>

If you are outside Australia when applying, contact the Australian Home Affairs office in the country where the documents were issued for advice on acceptable translators, and who can certify your original documents.

If you need to provide overseas penal clearance certificates with your application, you must provide certified copies of the certificates.

- has known you for at least one year and belongs to a profession on the list on pages 5–6, and

Children under 6 years of age

In the case of children under 6 years of age, if no Australian citizen has known them for at least one year, the declaration can be signed by a person who belongs to a profession on the list on pages 5–6 who has known the child for less than one year.

Good character

If you are 18 years of age or over, the Department will request a Nationally Coordinated Criminal History Check (NCCHC) from the National Police Checking Service (NPCS).

You must tell the Department about any convictions you may have had in Australia or overseas. A conviction is a criminal charge leading to a guilty verdict in a court of law resulting in imprisonment, a fine or good behaviour bond. A traffic infringement, such as an on-the-spot speeding or parking fine, is not considered a conviction.

Spent convictions

You must declare spent convictions in your application.

The spent convictions law allows people with minor convictions to disregard those convictions after a certain period of time. A conviction may be considered spent if:

- it is 10 years since the date of the conviction (or 5 years for juvenile offenders), and
- the person was not sentenced to imprisonment for more than 30 months, and
- the person has not re-offended during the 10 year period (or 5 years for juveniles), and
- a statutory or prescribed exclusion does not apply.

The Department is allowed to ask you for this information for the purpose of assessing your application. Please refer to and read the information regarding spent convictions at <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/help-support/meeting-our-requirements/character/character-requirements-for-australian-citizenship>

Overseas penal clearance certificates

Overseas penal clearance certificates, or police checks as they are known in some countries, show whether a person has a criminal record.

You may need to provide an overseas penal clearance certificate as part of your documentation if you are 18 years of age or over.

When to provide overseas penal clearance certificates

You will need to provide penal clearance certificates from countries outside Australia if in the last 10 years:

- you lived or travelled outside Australia since turning 18, and
- the total time spent outside Australia added up to 12 months or more, and
- the time spent in any one country was more than 90 days, or
- if requested by the Department.

You will need to provide certified copies of all overseas penal clearance certificates from each country where you spent more than 90 days.
