

Important

Please read the information pages carefully. Pre-pay through ImmiAccount before posting your application to the Department of Home Affairs (the Department) (see page 10).

We strongly advise that you keep a copy of your application for your records.

There are 4 steps in the application process to renounce your Australian citizenship.

- Step 1 Eligibility – determine if you are eligible
- Step 2 Original documents – gather your original documents
- Step 3 Copy and certify your documents
- Step 4 Complete this application form, pay online and lodge your application

Integrity of application

The Department is committed to maintaining the integrity of the visa and citizenship programs. If you or a third party acting on your behalf provide, or have provided in a previous application, false or misleading information or documents (either knowingly or otherwise), this application is likely to be refused. In addition, you may be prosecuted under the Migration Act 1958 and/or the Australian Citizenship Act 2007.

Step 1 – Eligibility

Australian citizens 18 years and over can apply to renounce their Australian citizenship.

Australia is a signatory to the United Nations Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness. Consequently, your application to renounce your Australian citizenship will not be approved unless you provide evidence that you are a citizen of another country, or that on renunciation you will acquire the citizenship of another country.

Citizenship ceases on the date the application is approved.

Children

Children can apply to renounce Australian citizenship, only if they were born or are ordinarily resident in a foreign country and are not entitled, under the law of that country, to acquire the nationality or citizenship of that country because they are Australian citizens.

Applications for children under 16 years of age must be made by a responsible parent.

If you are the responsible parent of a child when your Australian citizenship ceases, consideration may be given to revoking the citizenship of any children under the age of 18 years, unless:

- the other responsible parent is still an Australian citizen, or
- doing so would render them stateless.

The Australian Citizenship Act 2007 defines responsible parent in relation to a child as:

- a parent, unless that parent does not have parental responsibility because of orders made by the Family Court of Australia, or
- any person having responsibility over the child because of an order made by the Family Court, or
- any person who has guardianship or custody of the child under an Australian law or a foreign law, whether because of adoption, operation of law, an order of a court or otherwise.

Step 2 – Original documents

You will need to provide the Department with a range of documents to prove that you are who you say you are. These documents are called identity documents.

You will also need to provide additional documents that show evidence of your Australian citizenship and your citizenship of another country. These are called supporting documents.

If you have to get documents from overseas, this can take time. You will not be able to complete the application process without these documents.

Translations and certified copies

If your documents are not in English, you must provide official translations. In Australia, you must use translators accredited by the National Accreditation Authority of Translators and Interpreters. For more information, see www.naati.com.au

Unless specified that original documents are required, certified copies of original documents must be attached to your application. These copies must be certified by a person with the correct authority. See Identity declarations – list of professions on page 5 for people who can certify documents. Further information on certifying documents is available on the Department's website

<https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/help-support/applying-online-or-on-paper/on-paper/certified-copy>

If you are outside Australia when applying, contact the Australian Home Affairs office where the documents were issued for advice on acceptable translators, and who can certify your original documents.
